Ted Karkus, ProPhase Lab's Chief Executive Officer, commented, "Our entire team continues to generate phenomenal results. We reported $12.5 million in net income, which includes $3.4 million in income tax expense. Our adjusted EBITDA was even greater. While there was a significant spike in COVID-19 incidence in Q1 2021, our testing levels still significantly increased year over year for 2022, due to our extensive expansion and diversification of our customer base, including independent pharmacies, schools, concierge services in multiple states, municipal contract wins, etc. Our strong Q1 financial results reflect this growth in customers combined with more efficient operations."

"We expect Q2 2022 to continue to produce strong year over year results. We expect to see additional waves of Covid-19 throughout the year as the BA2 sub-variant continues to mutate and as we learn more about BA4 and BA5 variants that are now spreading at an accelerated rate in other countries. For these reasons, we believe that demand for testing will continue for the foreseeable future. A significant portion of our business over the past two quarters was reimbursed by Health Resources & Services Administration (HRSA), which as of March 22, 2022 has stopped accepting claims for COVID-19 testing and treatment due to lack of sufficient funding. We have no way of knowing whether the HRSA program will be funded by the government in the future. However even without this funding, our business is still currently running up significantly year over year."

"We are planning to expand our high complexity molecular diagnostics lab to include clinical testing in 2022. This will expand our menu to offer traditional testing (i.e., hematology, chemistry, immunoassays, coagulation, STDs, urinalysis etc.) Our offerings can also be tailored to the specific needs of research organizations and physicians. In parallel, we plan to build a genetics laboratory outfitted with industry leading Next Generation Sequencing (NGS) to perform Whole Genome Sequencing (WGS) and an array of genetic diagnostic test offerings, both clinical and for research."

"We believe this expansion will open doors to academic institutions who have a growing demand to conduct genetic research which is at the heart of precision medicine. This is in addition to our current goals to leverage our Food, Drug and Mass distribution and infrastructure to significantly grow direct to consumer sales of genetic tests and ultimately, a large variety of diagnostic tests.

We are also in the early stages of working on the development of a broad spectrum anti-viral OTC dietary supplement as well as building a pharmaceutical division that would license and develop early stage drugs with enormous potential. I look forward to sharing more information about this in the coming months.

As of March 31, 2022, we had working capital of over $50 million. We believe that we have ample cash and working capital for all of our planned expansion for the foreseeable future," concluded Mr. Karkus.

First Quarter 2022 Financial Results

For the three months ended March 31, 2022, net revenue was $47.5 million as compared to $15.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2021. The increase in net revenue was the result of a $32.2 million increase in net revenue from diagnostic services and an immaterial increase in consumer products. The increase in net revenue for diagnostic services was due to increased COVID-19 testing volumes performed as a result of the Omicron variant, which emerged in early 2022. Overall diagnostic testing volume increased from 113,000 tests in the first quarter of 2021 to 377,000 tests in the first quarter of 2022.

Cost of revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2022 were $18.9 million, comprised of $16.7 million for diagnostic services and $2.2 million for consumer products. Cost of revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2021 were $6.3 million, comprised of $4.3 million for diagnostic services and $2.0 million for consumer products.

We realized a gross profit of $28.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2022 as compared to $8.9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2021. The increase of $19.8 million was comprised of an increase of $19.8 million from diagnostic services offset by an immaterial decrease in consumer products. For the three months ended March 31, 2022 and 2021 we realized an overall gross margin of 60.3% and 58.5%, respectively. Gross margin for diagnostic services was 62.8% and 65.9% in the 2022 and 2021 comparable periods, respectively. The decrease in gross margin was principally due to increased sample collection costs and additional costs for HRSA-related testing for which revenue could not be recognized due to the termination of the HRSA uninsured program, partially offset by a decrease in cost of test materials. Gross margin for consumer products was 17.8% and 21.1% in the 2022 and 2021 comparable periods, respectively. Gross margin for consumer products have historically been influenced by fluctuations in quarter-to-quarter production volume, fixed production costs and related overhead absorption, raw ingredient costs, inventory mark to market write-downs and timing of shipments to customers.

Diagnostic services costs for the three months ended March 31, 2022 were $4.7 million compared to $3.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2021. The increase of $0.9 million was due to increased COVID-19 testing volumes performed as a result of the Omicron variant, which emerged in early 2022, partially offset by a greater proportion of costs allocated to cost of revenues as a result of the nature of agreements with network providers.

General and administration expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2022 were $7.8 million as compared to $3.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2021. The increase of $4.0 million in general and administration expenses was principally related to an increase in personnel expenses and professional fees associated with our diagnostic services business.

As a result of the effects described above, net income from operations for the three months ended March 31, 2022 was $12.5 million, or $0.81 per share, as compared to $1.1 million, or $0.07 per share, for the three months ended March 31, 2021. Diluted earnings per share for the three months ended March 31, 2022 and 2021 were $0.68 and $0.06, respectively.

Our aggregate cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash as of March 31, 2022 were $25.8 million as compared to $8.7 million at December 31, 2021. Our working capital was $52.6 million and $45.8 million as of March 31, 2022 and December 31, 2021, respectively. The increase of $17.1 million in our cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash for the three months ended March 31, 2022 was principally due to our proceeds from the sale of marketable debt securities of $5.3 million and $20.3 million cash provided by operating activities, offset by (i) purchases of marketable securities of $0.3 million, (ii) cash dividend payments of $4.6 million, (iii) repayment of note payable of $1.4 million, (iv) repurchase of common shares for $1.2 million, and (v) capital expenditures of $1.1 million.

In an effort to provide investors with additional information regarding our results of operations as determined by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”), we disclose certain non-GAAP financial measures. The primary non-GAAP financial measure we disclose are EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA.

We define EBITDA as net income (loss) before net interest expense, income taxes, depreciation and amortization. Adjusted EBITDA further adjusts EBITDA by excluding acquisition costs, other non-cash items, and other unusual or non-recurring charges (as described in the table below).

We use EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA internally to evaluate and manage the Company’s operations because we believe they provide useful supplemental information regarding the Company’s ongoing economic performance. We have chosen to provide this information to investors to enable them to perform more meaningful comparisons of operating results. The following table sets forth the reconciliations of EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA excluding other costs to the most comparable GAAP financial measures (in thousands):

	For the three months ended
	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021
GAAP net income ⁽¹⁾	$ 12,494	$ 1,057
Interest, net	160	164
Depreciation and amortization	1,250	457
EBITDA	13,904	1,678
Share-based compensation expense	482	428
Non-cash rent expense ⁽²⁾	10	186
Bad debt expense ⁽³⁾	250	-
Adjusted EBITDA	$ 14,646	$ 2,292

⁽¹⁾ We believe that net income (loss) is the financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP that is most directly comparable to EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA measure the Company’s operating performance without regard to certain expenses. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are not presentations made in accordance with GAAP and the Company’s computation of EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA may vary from others in the industry. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA have important limitations as analytical tools and should not be considered in isolation or as substitutes for analysis of the Company’s results as reported under GAAP.

⁽²⁾ The non-cash portion of rent, which reflects the extent to which our GAAP rent expense recognized exceeds (or is less than) our cash rent payments. For newer leases, our rent expense recognized typically exceeds our cash rent payments, while for more mature leases, rent expense recognized is typically less than our cash rent payments.

⁽³⁾ Full allowance reserved related to restricted cash.
