Item 1.02. Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement.

As previously report, we issued two convertible promissory notes, as follows:

On April 1, 2016, we entered into a convertible promissory note pursuant to which we borrowed $100,000. Interest under the convertible promissory note is 12% per annum, and the principal and all accrued but unpaid interest is due on December 22, 2016. The note is convertible at any date after the issuance date at noteholders option into shares of our common stock at a variable conversion price of 50% of the average three (3) two (2) lowest day market price of our common stock during the previous 20 days immediately preceding the conversion date.

On June 24, 2016, we entered into a convertible promissory note pursuant to which we borrowed $64,000 including a debt discount of $3,200. Interest under the convertible promissory note is 12% per annum, and the principal and all accrued but unpaid interest is due on December 22, 2016. The note is convertible at any date after the issuance date at noteholders option into shares of our common stock at a variable conversion price of 50% of the average two (2) lowest day market price of our common stock during the previous 20 days immediately preceding the conversion date.

On February 28, 2017, we redeemed the above two convertible promissory notes in the aggregate principal amount of $164,000 (the "Notes"). The April 1, 2016 Note was redeemed by conversions of our common stock and the June 24, 2016 Note was redeemed by cash payments totaling $14,080.57 and conversions of our common stock.

We hope to similarly redeem the remaining convertible notes in our company, as available cash or financing permits.
